Turn One Video into 10 Posts

Record once, publish everywhere. Turn one 5–10 minute video into shorts, captions, a blog post and an email, with AI doing the reshaping and you doing the checking.

START HERE

Record once. Publish all week.

You already explain your work to customers every day. Film one of those explanations for 5–10 minutes, and AI can help you turn the transcript into shorts, captions, a blog post, an email and more. You supply the video and the facts; you check every piece before it goes out.

THE GOLDEN RULE

Every piece should say only what you actually said in the video plus facts you confirm. AI is good at reshaping your words; it is not a source of new claims, prices or results.

SECTION 01 · THE MAP

One video, ten posts: the map

Here is one way to turn a single 5–10 minute video into ten pieces. You don't need all ten every time. Start with the three or four your customers actually see.

#	Piece	Where it goes	Done
1–3	Three shorts (20–45 s each)	TikTok, Instagram Reels, YouTube Shorts
4	Full video with title and description	YouTube or your website
5	Blog post (about 600–900 words)	Your website
6	Email to your list	Your newsletter tool
7	Carousel (5–7 slides)	Instagram, LinkedIn
8	LinkedIn post	LinkedIn
9	Quote graphic	Instagram, Facebook, Pinterest
10	Short caption or update	Facebook, X/Threads, Google Business Profile

PROMPT · REPURPOSING PLAN

Here is the transcript of my [LENGTH]-minute video about [TOPIC] for [BUSINESS]: [PASTE TRANSCRIPT].
Suggest which of these pieces fit it best: shorts, blog post, email, carousel, LinkedIn post, quote graphic, short caption.
For each, give a one-line angle based only on what I said. Do not add facts, prices or results that are not in the transcript. If something is unclear, ask me.

EXERCISE 1 · CHOOSE YOUR FIRST VIDEO (5 MINUTES)

Write three questions customers ask you often. Circle the one you can answer in under 10 minutes without notes. That is your first video.

Got this from a friend? Get more practical AI guides at shop-ds.github.io →

SECTION 02 · RECORDING

Record a video that is easy to repurpose

A phone, a quiet room and a window for light are usually enough. What matters most for repurposing is structure: short, clear sections that still make sense when cut out on their own.

1. Pick one question a customer really asks, and say it at the start.
2. Plan three points, each one to two minutes long.
3. Pause for a second between points, so clips are easy to cut.
4. Give one practical example in each point (fictional or anonymized).
5. End with one next step, such as how to book or where to learn more.

PROMPT · VIDEO OUTLINE

Help me plan a [LENGTH]-minute talking-to-camera video for [BUSINESS].
The customer question I will answer: [QUESTION]
What I know and want to say: [YOUR NOTES]
Give me an opening line, three short points and a closing next step, using only my notes. Mark anything you would need me to confirm as [TO CONFIRM].

ALREADY HAVE RECORDINGS?

A webinar, a live stream, a podcast episode or a recorded talk works too. Start with something you have already recorded before filming anything new.

Got this from a friend? Get more practical AI guides at shop-ds.github.io →

SECTION 03 · TRANSCRIBE

Get a transcript automatically

Almost every piece starts from the transcript, the words of your video as text. Many tools create one for you. Features and plans change often, so check what your current plan includes.

Where your video is	A common way to get the words
Uploaded to YouTube	Automatic captions often appear in YouTube Studio after upload
Recorded in Zoom, Teams or Google Meet	Some plans offer recording transcripts; check your settings
On your phone	Some phones and voice memo apps can transcribe audio
In a video editor	Editors such as CapCut or Descript often offer auto-captions

PROMPT · TRANSCRIPT CLEAN-UP

Here is an automatic transcript of my video: [PASTE TRANSCRIPT].
Fix obvious transcription errors, add punctuation and split it into paragraphs with short headings.
Do not change my meaning, add new points or remove examples. Mark any word you are unsure about as [UNCLEAR] so I can check it against the video.

PRIVACY AND CONSENT

If the recording is a call or class with other people, get their permission before you publish any part of it. Remove names, emails and other personal details from the transcript before pasting it into an AI tool, and never paste private customer information. In the EU and UK, GDPR applies to personal data in recordings. This is general information, not legal advice.

SECTION 04 · BEST MOMENTS

Find the best moments in your video

A good short usually makes one point: a surprising tip, a common mistake or a quick before-and-after. Let AI suggest the moments, then check every quote against the video yourself.

PROMPT · MOMENT FINDER

Here is the transcript of my video with timestamps: [PASTE TRANSCRIPT WITH TIMES].
Find the [NUMBER] strongest moments for 20–45 second shorts. For each, give the start and end time, the exact quote, and a one-line hook.
Quote my words exactly, do not rewrite them. Do not add claims that are not in the transcript.

1. A common mistake: “Most people start by buying containers. Don't.”
2. A quick tip: one step the viewer can try today
3. A myth: something customers believe that isn't true
4. A question you answer: the question itself makes a good hook

EXERCISE 2 · CHECK THE QUOTES

For each suggested moment, find the timestamp in the video and confirm the quote is word for word. Write your top three moments here.

Got this from a friend? Get more practical AI guides at shop-ds.github.io →

SECTION 05 · LONG-FORM

Turn the transcript into a blog post and an email

Your spoken words make a natural, readable article. The email then gives your list the short version and points them to the full video or post.

PROMPT · BLOG POST

Turn this transcript into a blog post of about [WORD COUNT] words for [BUSINESS]'s website.
Readers: [WHO]. Transcript: [PASTE CLEANED TRANSCRIPT]
Use a clear title, short headings and my own examples. Keep my voice. Use only what is in the transcript; do not add statistics, prices or promises. End with this next step: [CONFIRMED NEXT STEP]. If something is missing, ask me.

PROMPT · EMAIL TO MY LIST

Write a short email (under 200 words) to my newsletter subscribers about my new video on [TOPIC].
Key points from the video: [3 POINTS]
Next step for readers: [WATCH LINK OR CONFIRMED OFFER]
Give me three subject line options. Friendly and plain. Use only these facts; ask me if anything is missing.

REUSE THE TITLE WORK

Ask for five title options once, then reuse the best one for the YouTube title, the blog headline and the email subject. Your content stays consistent and you save time.

Got this from a friend? Get more practical AI guides at shop-ds.github.io →

SECTION 06 · SOCIAL PIECES

Carousel, captions and quote graphics

Each platform likes a slightly different shape. Ask for all of them in one go, then check each against the transcript. Character limits change, so check each platform's current limits.

Piece	A good version usually has
Carousel	A hook slide, one idea per slide, a final slide with the next step
LinkedIn post	A short story or lesson, line breaks, one question at the end
Instagram / TikTok caption	A hook line, two or three short points, a call to action
Quote graphic	One exact sentence from the video, your name or logo

PROMPT · CAROUSEL

Turn this transcript into a [NUMBER]-slide carousel: [PASTE TRANSCRIPT].
Slide 1: a hook. Middle slides: one idea each, under 25 words. Last slide: [CONFIRMED NEXT STEP].
Use only points from the transcript. Suggest a simple visual for each slide.

PROMPT · CAPTIONS FOR EACH PLATFORM

From this transcript, write: one LinkedIn post (under 150 words), one Instagram caption (under 80 words, 3–5 hashtags), one short update for Facebook or X (under 40 words) and one exact quote for a graphic.
Transcript: [PASTE TRANSCRIPT]
Use only what I said. No new claims, prices or results. Ask me if a fact is missing.

EXERCISE 3 · SAME IDEA, THREE SHAPES

Pick one point from your video. Write it as a carousel slide, a caption and a quote. Which one sounds most like you?

Got this from a friend? Get more practical AI guides at shop-ds.github.io →

SECTION 07 · SHORTS

Cut shorts with auto-clip tools, or by hand

Auto-clip tools suggest short clips, add captions and reframe for vertical screens. They save time, but they don't know your business. Always watch each clip before posting.

Option	Good for	Watch out for
By hand in a phone editor	Full control, two or three clips	Takes longer per clip
Auto-clip tools (e.g. Opus Clip, Descript, CapCut)	Many clip ideas quickly	Clips cut mid-sentence, wrong captions
Platform features (e.g. YouTube Shorts from a video)	Staying inside one app	Features vary by account and country

1. Use your three checked moments from Section 04.
2. Cut each to 20–45 seconds; start on the hook line.
3. Fix caption errors, especially names, prices and numbers.
4. Add one call to action at the end, spoken or on screen.

PROMPT · SHORT HOOK AND CAPTION

Here is the exact quote from my short video: "[QUOTE]".
Write three on-screen hook lines (under 8 words) and one caption (under 60 words) with a call to action: [CONFIRMED NEXT STEP].
Use only what the quote says.

PLANS AND PRICES CHANGE

Many auto-clip tools have free tiers with limits or watermarks, and paid plans that change often. Check the current plan before you commit.

SECTION 08 · HABIT

Your 7-day repurposing plan

One recording session, then a few short sessions through the week. After the first week, this can become a weekly or every-other-week routine.

Day	Action	Time (est.)	Done
1	Pick the question, outline it, record the video	45 min
2	Get and clean up the transcript; check [UNCLEAR] words	20 min
3	Find and check three moments; cut the shorts	45 min
4	Write and check the blog post	30 min
5	Write the email, carousel and captions	30 min
6	Check every piece against the video; schedule them	20 min
7	Look at what got replies or questions; note next topic	15 min

Times are rough estimates and vary by business and tool.

PROMPT · WEEKLY REVIEW

This week I published these pieces from one video: [LIST].
What I noticed (replies, questions, comments): [NOTES FROM MY ACCOUNTS].
Suggest the next video topic and which pieces to make again, using only these notes.

- [ ] Every quote matches the video word for word
- [ ] No new claims, prices or results were added
- [ ] People in the recording agreed to be published

FIRST WIN · FICTIONAL EXAMPLE

Your first win, start to finish

Walk through turning a short video transcript into an Instagram caption for Tidy Nest, a made-up home organizing service in Chicago. Nothing here is a real business, video or customer.

Example input	Value
Transcript excerpt	"Most people start by buying containers. Don't. First take everything out and group what you actually use every week. Then put the things you grab daily at eye level. Containers come last, once you know what you're storing."
Confirmed fact	Pantry sessions are booked on our website.
Tone	Warm and practical
Language	English

EXAMPLE COMPLETED PROMPT

Write an English Instagram caption, under 80 words, for a short video from Tidy Nest, a home organizing service in Chicago.

What I said in the video: "Most people start by buying containers. Don't. First take everything out and group what you actually use every week. Then put the things you grab daily at eye level. Containers come last, once you know what you're storing."

Confirmed fact: pantry sessions are booked on our website.

Start with a hook line, keep my tip in the same order, end with the booking fact as the call to action, and add 3 hashtags. Tone: warm and practical. Use only these facts. Do not add prices, results, time savings or product names. If an essential fact is missing, ask me before drafting.

Copy it, open your AI assistant (ChatGPT, Claude, Gemini or Copilot), paste and send. Then compare what you get with this:

ILLUSTRATIVE ANSWER, NOT A LIVE AI RESULT

Stop buying pantry containers (for now) 1. Take everything out. 2. Group what you actually use every week. 3. Put daily grabs at eye level. Containers come last, once you know what you're storing. Want help with yours? Book a pantry session on our website. #PantryOrganization #HomeOrganizing #ChicagoHome

Checks before use

- [ ] Every tip matches what was said in the video, in the same order.
- [ ] No prices, results, time savings or product names were added.
- [ ] The call to action uses only the confirmed booking fact.
- [ ] It is under 80 words and sounds like the business owner.

USE IT

Copy the checked caption, open Instagram or your scheduling tool, and paste it under the short yourself. The webpage does not post anything for you.

GUIDED TASK

Pick the best moments for shorts

When to use it: You have a video and a transcript and want 2–3 short clips that make one point each. Prepare: The transcript, with timestamps if you have them; Names and personal details removed; Who the shorts are for.

Question	Example answer
Describe your business in one sentence.	Tidy Nest, a home organizing service in Chicago (fictional)
Paste your transcript.	0:40 Most people start by buying containers. Don't... 2:10 Label the shelf, not the box... 4:05 Do one shelf a day...
Who are the shorts for?	Busy parents in Chicago apartments with small kitchens
What next step should viewers take?	Book a pantry session on our website
Which language should it be written in?	English

PROMPT TEMPLATE

Find the 3 strongest moments for 20–45 second shorts in this video transcript.
Our business: [ABOUT YOUR BUSINESS]
Transcript: [TRANSCRIPT]
The shorts are for: [AUDIENCE]
Call to action to end each short: [NEXT STEP]
Language: [LANGUAGE].
For each moment give: start and end time, the exact quote, an on-screen hook under 8 words and a caption under 60 words.
Quote my words exactly; do not rewrite them. Use only what is in the transcript. If something is missing or unclear, ask me.

ILLUSTRATIVE ANSWER, NOT A LIVE AI RESULT

1) 0:40–1:15 · "Most people start by buying containers. Don't." Hook: Stop buying containers. Caption: Take everything out first... Book a pantry session on our website. 2) 2:10–2:40 · "Label the shelf, not the box." Hook: Label this, not that. 3) 4:05–4:35 · "Do one shelf a day." Hook: One shelf a day.

Checks before use

- [ ] Every quote matches the video word for word (check the timestamps).
- [ ] No claims, prices or results were added to hooks or captions.
- [ ] Each moment makes sense without the rest of the video.
- [ ] People shown or heard agreed to be published.

Repairs

If...	Send this
Quote was reworded	“Use my exact words from the transcript for moment [NUMBER]: [EXACT QUOTE]. Change nothing else.”
Added a claim	“Replace this assumption with the following confirmed fact: [FACT]. Change nothing else.”
Hooks too long	“Shorten every hook to under [NUMBER] words. Keep the meaning.”

Next action: Cut each checked moment in your video editor or auto-clip tool, fix the captions, then schedule the shorts.

GUIDED TASK

Turn a transcript into a blog post

When to use it: You want a readable article on your website from a video you have already recorded. Prepare: The cleaned-up transcript; Who will read the post; One confirmed next step for readers.

Question	Example answer
Describe your business in one sentence.	Tidy Nest, a home organizing service in Chicago (fictional)
Paste your cleaned-up transcript.	Today I want to answer the question I get most: where do I start with a messy pantry? First, take everything out...
Who will read the post?	Renters and homeowners who feel overwhelmed by their kitchen
What should readers do at the end?	Watch the full video or book a pantry session on our website
Which language should it be written in?	English

PROMPT TEMPLATE

Turn this video transcript into a blog post of about 700 words for our website.
Our business: [ABOUT YOUR BUSINESS]
Readers: [READERS]
Transcript: [TRANSCRIPT]
End with this next step: [NEXT STEP]
Language: [LANGUAGE].
Give it a clear title, short headings and my own examples. Keep my voice and US spelling. Do not add statistics, prices, results or promises that are not in the transcript. Use only these facts. If something essential is missing, ask me before drafting.

ILLUSTRATIVE ANSWER, NOT A LIVE AI RESULT

Where to Start with a Messy Pantry It's the question we hear most at Tidy Nest... Step 1: Take everything out ... Step 2: Group what you use every week ... Why containers come last ... Want to see it in action? Watch the full video or book a pantry session on our website.

Checks before use

- [ ] Every tip and example comes from the transcript.
- [ ] No statistics, prices or results were added.
- [ ] The next step matches what you offer today.
- [ ] It reads like you, not like a generic article.

Repairs

If...	Send this
Added a fact or number	“Replace this assumption with the following confirmed fact: [FACT]. Change nothing else.”
Sounds generic	“Rewrite the introduction using my own words from the transcript: [QUOTE]. Keep the rest.”
Too long	“Cut this to about [NUMBER] words. Keep every heading and the next step.”

Next action: Paste the checked post into your website editor, add the video and one real photo, then publish.

Got this from a friend? Get more practical AI guides at shop-ds.github.io →

GUIDED TASK

Write the email and social captions

When to use it: Your video is live and you want to tell your email list and your social followers about it. Prepare: Three key points from the video; Where people can watch it; Which platforms you post on.

Question	Example answer
Describe your business in one sentence.	Tidy Nest, a home organizing service in Chicago (fictional)
What are the three key points of the video?	Take everything out first; group what you use weekly; buy containers last
Where can people watch the video?	On our YouTube channel (link added before sending)
Which platforms need a caption?	Instagram, LinkedIn and Facebook
Which language should it be written in?	English

PROMPT TEMPLATE

Write a short email (under 150 words) with 3 subject line options, plus one caption for each platform listed, about my new video.
Our business: [ABOUT YOUR BUSINESS]
Key points from the video: [KEY POINTS]
Where to watch: [WHERE TO WATCH]
Platforms: [PLATFORMS]
Language: [LANGUAGE].
Friendly and plain. Keep each caption the right length for its platform. Use only these facts; do not add prices, results or offers. If an essential fact is missing, ask me before drafting.

ILLUSTRATIVE ANSWER, NOT A LIVE AI RESULT

Subject options: 1) Stop buying pantry containers (for now) 2) The 3-step pantry reset 3) Where to start with a messy pantry Email: Hi there, our new video answers the question we hear most... Watch it on our YouTube channel. Instagram: Stop buying containers ... #PantryOrganization LinkedIn: The question I hear most from clients... Facebook: New video: the 3-step pantry reset...

Checks before use

- [ ] The three points match the video exactly.
- [ ] No offers, prices or results were added.
- [ ] The email says where to watch, and you add the real link.
- [ ] Each caption suits its platform's length and style.

Repairs

If...	Send this
Point changed or added	"Replace this assumption with the following confirmed fact: [FACT]. Change nothing else."
Subject lines too salesy	"Write 3 new subject lines that sound like a friendly note, under 8 words each."
Captions all the same	"Rewrite the [PLATFORM] caption so it fits that platform. Keep the facts."

Next action: Add the real video link, send the email from your newsletter tool, and schedule the captions yourself.
